RANCIÉITE
(Ca,Mn$^{2+}$)Mn$^{4+}$O$_9$$\cdot$3H$_2$O

Ranciéite is a relatively uncommon supergene mineral associated with certain iron-manganese deposits. Northern Peninsula.

Baraga County: Taylor mine: as dark brownish black bundles of weathered acicular crystals coating quartz, goethite and manganite. Verified by X-ray diffraction and energy dispersion X-ray spectroscopy.